The Political Science Minor Restoration Bill

"A bill supporting the restoration of the Political Science minor program in the Texas A&M College of Liberal Arts."

Whereas(1): The Texas A&M University College of Liberal Arts does not currently offer a political science minor.

Whereas (2): Several years ago, the minor was offered to students; however, it has since been removed due to a lack of student interest.

Whereas(3): With an increase in students majoring in Liberal Arts and the growing quality of the Bush School of Government, several students have voiced their interest in a political science minor.

Whereas(4): The addition of the minor would allow for an enhanced academic experience and an increase in interest in the College of Liberal Arts.
